INTRODUCTION

IRAN-ASEAN Business Council was established in 2015 with the aim of boosting trade engagement between Iran and other countries of Southeast Asia. Malaysia is seeking more trade exchanges with Iran and expressed hope that Iran can play a role in distributing Malaysian-made products to its neighbours. One goal of the council is to lay a ground for Iranian investors and other business person in ASEAN countries to use Malaysia as headquarters.

'Iranian investors can use Malaysia to access other ASEAN countries, as well as China, Hong Kong and Japan, via Malaysia,'

'There are myriads of opportunities, and Malaysian business persons are getting briefed on the new windows and are keen to increase their exports to Iran,' IABC invite all Iranian and Malaysian Businessmen to share their economic capabilities with us.

The IRAN-ASEAN BUSINESS COUNCIL (IABC)

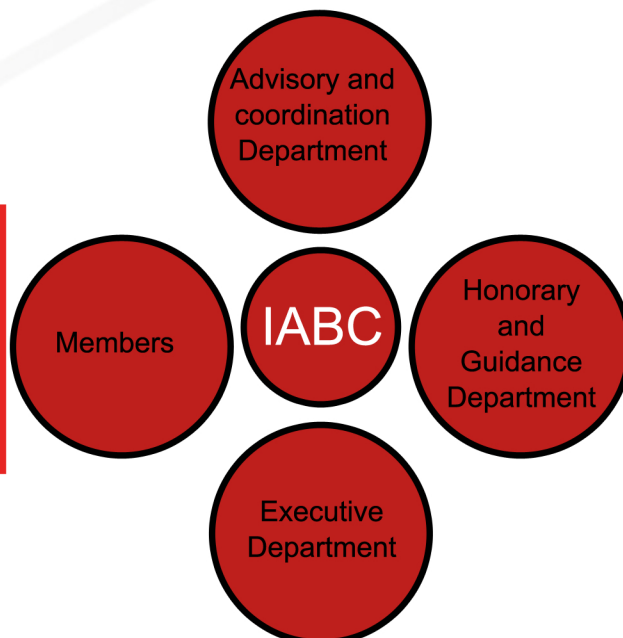

stands strictly as non-political, non-racial & non-religious entity that suits our current era of a globalized world and nations relating to trade activities; with a specific aim to promote trades between two countries, namely Iran & Malaysia, which will gradually expand to the ASEAN region through better understanding of one another country's business laws and requirements, business practices, customs and culture in conducting businesses in those respective countries.

There will be huge frozen assets of Iran in other countries, flowing back inside to Iran. These capital will undoubtedly fuel the trading activities of Iran, and it will also be meant for mega infrastructure development spilling across all sectors of industries like oil and gas, railways, minerals exploration, travel, etc. Besides, from mid-January 2016 onwards, the trades between Iran and other countries will surely flourish. In this new economic development that presents enormous opportunities for the Malaysian businessmen, and also for the Iranian businessmen who wish to expand their businesses to Malaysia or ASEAN region.

IRAN-ASEAN Business Council Structure

Currently, there are about 50,000 people that make up of the entire Iranian community in Malaysia, and this number would certainly increase if we factor in the Iranian community in the ASEAN region. Currently both Malaysia and Iran enjoy a bilateral trade value of about a billion dollar annually . Besides, Malaysia and Iran have also cooperated in a number of large industrial projects, many of them in the energy sector. In December 2007, the two signed a US$6 Billion deal to develop areas of Iran's offshore gas fields.

Includes all the coordinators who are committed to the objectives and plans of IABC regardless of their personal interests, consider only the win-win situation.

Includes all those active in the field of trade and industry in both countries and regions.

Includes all those who are knowledgeable in their field and who have reached the highest standards and can be considered as a good model business behaviour

The IRAN-ASEAN Business Council also aims at facilitating trades between Iran and Malaysia through Public listed companies (PLCs), Government linked companies (GLCs), Semi-Medium industries (SMIs) & Semi Medium Enterprises (SMEs), and expanded to trade activities with other ASEAN countries.
